

Academic Performance Scholarship

XIE QICHEN

Associate of Science in Information Systems Development

Qichen is a truly good performer. Throughout the past three semesters, he has maintained his Semester GPA consistently in the top range. He has been placed on the President's List for his good scores. When asked for the secret behind his good performance, Qichen said it was his genuine love of the subject of IT. One of his best pastime hobbies also centres around IT. No wonder we see his computer different from others both in its outlook and functionality. Building his own computer and upgrading constantly is his favourite hobby. As the saying goes, "passion is energy".
